Declares Is No Issue On Prohibition In Present Race

(Associated Press)

EUFULA, Ala., April 15.—Advocating a $75,000,000 bond issue for good roads, pledging abolition of the convict lease system in Alabama and urging the necessity of adequate appropriations for education, Lieutenant Governor Charles S. McDowell opened his campaign for governor here today.

In his first official speech, he outlined the principles and the issues on which he will wage his campaign. Prohibition is a fixture not an issue and no modification will be permitted and no inefficiency in its enforcement will be tolerated, he declared.

Opposition to increases in the state tax rate was voiced by him and conservation was favored. The development of the Port of Mobile was favored. McDowell said that he had promised no man an office nor would he. The resources of Alabama were discussed at some length.

Possibilities For Great City Here

Banker Declares Everything Favorable For Building Industrial Center In Albany-Decatur.

(By Thos. A. Bowles, President, The Central National Bank)

Much is being written and spoken nowadays about the future development of Albany-Decatur, and such discussion is vitally interesting to every person who works or lives in the Twin Cities because as a community grows, in population and in the number of its industries and other business enterprises, its citizens enjoy broadening opportunities for work, for recreation and so for happiness.

The Upper Muscle Shoals Cities are strategically located at a point of vantage in proximity to America's greatest power development. The Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis club are doing valuable work in broadcasting the opportunities that Albany-Decatur offers to the prospective resident, the executive in search of a location for his plant, but we cannot rely upon these organizations to do all the work.

The business organization which achieves the most marked success is that in which everyone connected with it, no matter in what capacity, knows as much as possible about the product it is selling and can, as a result, talk freely about the advantages of its product. If Albany-Decatur is to make the most of its opportunities for growth, it must operate like a business organization, and it will be well, therefore, if we consider just what selling points we can bring up in connection with our city.

Located in the center of "America's greatest store-house of minerals and crude materials," Albany-Decatur is served by the main lines of two great railroads, while the Tennessee River will soon afford deep water transportation to all points on the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers, as well as to all points "down river." Furthermore, the district is traversed by the Bee Line Highway, and good macadamized roads radiate in every direction. Hydro-electric power is furnished here at minimum cost. Minerals and crude materials abound. Lumber is plentiful. As an agricultural section, the Tennessee River Valley "is nearer the equal of the Valley of the Nile than any other farming area in America," as one internationally famous soil expert has expressed it. Cotton, the chief money crop of the district, can be had in any quantities for textile enterprises—and it is above the average staple cotton.

Thirty thriving industries in Albany-Decatur already testify to the dollars-and-cents possibilities inherent in these advantages, and good factory sites are still available in the Twin Cities. Nor can it be said that Albany-Decatur's opportunities are solely industrial, for here, too, is a good place to live.

With the altitude of the district ranging from 700 feet to 1,200, winters are mild and summers never excessively warm. Drainage is excellent and the county's health service is well organized. We have 18 miles of paved streets, fine public school facilities, and active churches. The banks of the Twin Cities have resources in the neighborhood of six and one-half million dollars, and they are institutions with progressive policies and up-to-date equipment. Our retail establishments are attractive in appearance, well stocked and well served.

These, then, are the assets which we possess as a community, and which we must broadcast as effectively as possible if we are to attract new residents and new businesses to our city. We have the attention of the world at the present time; it is now that we stand to profit most fully by showing what we have to offer. As has been said, our Junior Chamber of Commerce and Albany-Decatur Kiwanis club are actively boosting Albany-Decatur, and all of us should do everything that we can to co-operate with them by talking about our city to all the people with whom we come in contact, and particularly people from beyond the limits of our immediate district. In working for a bigger Albany-Decatur we shall only be working for ourselves and our own prosperity.

LOCAL PASTOR IS GIVEN HIGH HONOR

Hahn Returns From the Gulf States Parley at Pensaloca

Pastor R. W. Hahn returned to Albany yesterday from Reusacola, Fla., where he attended the Gulf States pastoral conference in session there from April 5-13.

Commenting on the conference, Pastor Hahn said that it was most delightful and fruitful.

"Reports submitted from every field of missionary endeavor, especially those of the Florida mission fields, promise much in the way of a greater Lutheran church in the Southern States," the pastor said.

"An essay was read on 'Indifference' wherein lax practices in the churches, indifference to doctrine and comingling of the church and state were denounced as a direct and gross violation of the clear word of God."

"Because of its timely and practical nature, the essay was ordered to be published and broadcast. The conference further resolved to continue in the unity of doctrine and practice, without compromise, and to abide by the constitution of the United States and the clear word of God in fostering separation of church and state for the sake of civil and religious liberty."

Pastor Hahn was elected secretary for a term of three years.

PRESIDENT KEEPS TO HIS ROOM TODAY

Executive Suffers An Attack Of Indigestion

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—A mild attack of indigestion led President Coolidge to cancel engagements today and retire to the executive mansion. The illness made its appearance yesterday and impelled the President to remain in the mansion most of the afternoon although he kept his morning engagements and then spent a short time in the executive offices late in the afternoon.

He was visited twice yesterday by Major Coupal, his physician, but went to the executive offices as usual this morning.

Feeling no better, however, he cancelled a heavy engagement list and returned at 11 o'clock to the white house in the hope of conquering his trouble by rest.

Major Coupal visited him three and indicated that the indisposition was not regarded as serious.

SURPRISE VISITS TO FORTY-TWO PLACES PAID BY OFFICIALS

Greatest Raid In City's History Made By U. S. Attorney

MORE RESORTS TO BE CLOSED

Exclusive Places Fall Into Hands of Band During the Night

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 15.—A long dry trail was marked today from lower Manhattan to Catskill, N. Y., as a result of raids by representatives of United States District Attorney Buckner in his largest prohibition padlock offensive.

Forty two night clubs, cabarets, social clubs, hotels, inns, roadhouses and cafes received surprise visits.

At the same time there was promise that the trail would be widened by the addition of five more places in this city and several more out-of-town resorts.

Mr. Buckner said they would be served in a day or two.

Beginning with such places as Maxims and the Jolly Friars in Greenwich Village and the Cave of Fallen Angels, the raiders swept northward. The Cave of Fallen Angels was patronized by Russian emigrants, chiefly artists and nobles.

Another exclusive place was the Golden Glide restaurant, on the second floor of a loft building in West 44th street. Its patronage was carefully limited.

George L. Bullard's place, also raided, occupied four entire floors of a west 47th street apartment building and furnished in sumptuous fashion. The Jolly Friars, one of the best known so-called resorts in Greenwich village, was described by agents as a place where youth of high school age mixing with the artistic group making up most of its clientele has been found drunk.

This set a record for the number of padlock summons served at one time from Mr. Buckner's office, exceeding the previous record of 41 padlock cases started two days before last Christmas.

Birmingham Man Struck By Auto

Removed to Woodlawn infirmary, Campbell was thought, at first, to be only slightly injured. He died a short time after, however, of concussion of the brain.

Callahan, who accompanied the ambulance to the hospital and left his name and address, later was arrested and placed in jail at Woodlawn on charges of reckless driving, pending further investigation by Coroner J. D. Russom.

STEAM HEAT GIVES WAY TO FANS AS HIS TRAIN ENTERS FLORIDA

Local Minister Gives Vivid Picture of His Visit To Sunshine State.

By Dr. C. C. Davison

The Floridan, the Illinois Central's drag train to Florida was speeding on towards West Palm Beach, March 20th about 7 a. m. the porter turned on the electric fans. The steam heat was still on, full blast, at Jacksonville at bedtime the night before. I felt the pipes. There was no heat in them. We were in Florida. I studied the landscape and viewed the beautiful flowers everywhere the red, pink and white oleander, hibiscus of varied hues, the red poinsettia, and the ever-present bougainvillea vine with its blossoms of brilliant purple.

The land outside the developed areas was uninviting being covered with scrub pine and saw palmetto. The subsoil is coral rock which breaks down into a white clay. Hundreds of canals have been built making hundreds of bridges necessary.

One's first impression of Miami is a sky line of a large city like New York, Atlanta or Birmingham. I was soon in a beautiful home in the North East section. Across the street was a park with stately palms, the coconut, Washington, the royal, also the Australian pine in profusion. I could almost pick coconuts from my window upstairs. I could not believe that all this section was under the waters of Biscayne Bay not many months ago. I was driven along splendidly paved streets, beautiful parks and saw many residences and large hotels, apartn's houses, club houses and churches all on this made earth. Realty men buy the shore front and go out into the bay for from one to several blocks. They build a wall and pump in the earth from the bottom of the Bay. Lots sold under water is no more a joke. It is a reality. A syndicate is building a string of islands six miles long. They sell the lots first and with the money build immense coral dams and pump in the earth and in a few months palatial homes of the rich, immense, hotels and other buildings stand where water and marsh were.

Grape fruit are everywhere. A few oranges grow here and many Mangos, kumquats, avocados or alligator pears and some bananas. It seems a pity that great groves of these are being cut down or uprooted for building lots. Lots, lots everywhere lots and more lots.

Miami was a town of 10,000 ten years ago and the first Baptist church was a small wooden building on a donated lot. In 1920 there were 25,000 people. In 1925 no one can tell but they say more than 200,000 people and the first Baptist church has grown to eleven Baptist churches and could have sold its lot for $1,000,000.00.

People are there from everywhere. It seems I saw them from every place I had ever lived, worked or visited. Most every one I met told me of from one to three more that I knew. I made a long list of them, my relatives, friends and former members. I called on Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Garnett and family, Mr. Wm. Kimbrough, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Norton, Earnest L. Simpson, at West Palm Beach, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jones, Miss Frances Beason, Mrs. Maud Stout. At Lake Worth I found Mr. and Mrs. Q. B. Dowdy and little daughter and Charles Woodward. Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Sherrill and Mr. B. F. Holmes are at Miami. All send best regards to friends in Decatur.

Miami Beach is a long island from 1-2 to 3 miles wide and about 18 miles long. A few years ago it was a barren island between Miami and the Atlantic. Today it has 15,000 or 20,000 people and towns and estates of the wealthy. It is dotted with immense hotels, beautiful homes and casinos. Ocean front lots sell at enormous prices.

Coral Gables, (so named from the remarks the owners wife made on returning home and viewing the remodeled home, "Oh, what beautiful Coral Gables") is the wonderful development, just South West of the city. Large towns are laid out with paved streets, white ways, modern conveniences and lots sold from $5,000.00 to $250,000.00. In certain sections only those can buy who will put up homes worth say from $25,000 to $250,000. The Biltmore Hotel development including casino, Tihati Beach, etc. cost $12,000,000. Near by in a barren field will be built an $8,000,000 healthatorium where the rich will pay large sums to be massaged, bathed and dieted, etc. Canals from the sea come right up to these hotels and the private docks. Launches and yachts may come from New York and come all way from Jacksonville thru the inland waterway into Miami. This wonderful waterway was built by Mr. Flagler when he needed a way of transport for material for the East Coast Railroad and his wonderful hotels at Miami and West Palm Beach. One of these, the Royal Poinciana has 2,300 rooms. The Coral Gable Co., is now preparing to build a coffer dam 1000 feet out into the bay and six miles long, I believe to pump in and sell shore front lots at immense prices. A friend drove me over this development for half a day.

Another half day was spent driving over Hollywood. This is North East of Miami and not so pretentious as Coral Gables. This is for "everybody" who can pay for a lot from $1800 to many thousands. The new Hollywood Hotel on the beach is the most wonderful building of the kind I ever saw. Our party sat in the lounge which seemed about 75x100 feet and viewed the bathers on the beach and heard the large pipe organ and the orchestra. In these developments no wooden buildings are permitted. All must be of brick or stucco and practically all of them are of quaint Spanish, Italian or Moorish design. The homes of all the rich are covered with the old Spanish tiling brought over from Spain and most of it made by hand generations ago. With the Hollywood Realty Exchange I found a first cousin from North Georgia.

Between Hollywood and Miami are several developments. Among these are Golden Isles and Golden Shores. In these mangrove and rubber are being felled and earth pumped over them. It is unbelievable the prices lots bring that are still in or under mud and water. I do not believe there are many yards earth between Miami and Jacksonville that have not been charted and offered for sale at from $700 to many thousand dollars per lot.

An example of wild prices was seen as we drove from Hollywood down the shore route to Miami Beach. My friend pointed to two lots on the north, undeveloped part of the island and said: "We bought that lot for $1800 and the one next to it for $600 and last summer sold the two for $75,000." Lots in the center of the city hold for $30,000 and $40,000 per front foot. Men who bought business lots a few years ago for a few thousand sold them for as high as $1,000,000. Lots were pointed out to me that were bought for $1500 and sold for $6,500 for $35,000 and sold for $100,000.00. Those who were on the ground and had lots got rich and could not help it.

A young woman, a first cousin of mine, sent her brother-in-law a few years ago $400.00. He invested and reinvested this until she took charge of her business four years ago. She now maintains offices in the Professional Building and pays $250.00 per month for her one room apartment in the Everglades Apartment. On the roof high above the City she pointed to all the large buildings and said: "I've seen every one of those built since I came here four years ago."

Religiously the situation is encouraging. It is a great opportunity and a might challenge. The churches are filled every Sunday. They turned crowds away April 4th. Every service I attended, including Wednesday night one or more grown men came by profession of faith and baptism. Others came by letter.

It is true Miami is wide open. The churches are crowded as are the movies, the theaters and the beaches and places of amusement. I went down town on Sunday afternoon however and found the City as quiet as a North Alabama town. I saw nothing open except drug stores and drink stands. Many more churches are needed to accommodate the crowds.

The situation has been inflated, abnormal, artificial. The bubble of wild speculation of last summer had to burst. People were wild. Things had to turn and turn quickly. Those who did not turn over quickly lost. They now say "Things are dead". But to a new corner things are very much alive. Every facility is taxed to its capacity. Long lines of people are before the windows at the Post Office and Banks all day long. The lobby of the First National Bank seemed a bee hive every day and all day. The elevators the streets and cars are crowded and congested. Yes thousands are leaving but things were so congested they are not missed. Many people of affluence back home are paying from $100 to $150 per month for three or four small rooms over garages in the side and back yards. Blocks are covered with tents and temporary structures and one room huts. All these rent for fabulous prices and pay for themselves in a short time. Many apartment houses pay for themselves in one years time.

Scout Executive Passes Thru Here

On Tuesday evening Mr. Lewman spoke at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club at Cullman, his topic being "The Origin and History of the Boy Scout Movement in the United States." Mr. Lewman is widely known over the south for his organizing of Scout Councils, his last being the Southeast Alabama Council with headquarters at Dothan. The Cullman Club was visited by several of the leading citizens of Albany and Decatur in order that they might be able to hear Mr. Lewman.

Huntsville Road In Good Condition

Pythians returning from the convention held at Huntsville today declared that the Athens-Huntsville road is now in the best condition it has been in for many months. Considerable work has been done on the road-way in the past few weeks doing away to a great extent with the difficulties presented drivers.

Things will sift down. Realty men who were there will remain and will still make money. They are now eagerly looking out for re-sales, mortgages and sacrifices. Lots that would have sold last summer for $1,000,000 will bring $500,000 or more now. Many will bring from 10 per cent to 75 per cent of last summer's valuation.

After all is said people are just folks. I visited the Kiwanis club. We have the liveliest one in Albany-Decatur. I have ever seen. They have no Marvin Rankin or George Williamson. The people I saw in the main, were modestly dressed and acted with sobriety. There were some exceptions. We have them here. You may be what you will whether in Alabama or in South Florida.

Local Peace Officers Reported Powerless Cope With The Situation On Two Reservations.

(Associated Press)

CLAMATH FALLS, Oregon, April 15—Clamath Indians at Beatty and Bly, two reservation towns in Oregon, are on a rampage, drinking, gambling and carousing and fear is felt for the safety of white residents in the district.

Local, state and county peace officers are powerless to cope with the situation, the outgrowth of a recent decision by Circuit Judge A. L. Leavitt, in a habeas corpus action, holding that Indians on the reservation are not under the jurisdiction of state and county laws.

Judge Leavitt's decision holds that the Indians are wards of the government, protected by a treaty, and immune from arrest by anyone but United States officials, so long as they remain on the reservation.

District Attorney Elliott said yesterday that if the demonstrations continued, he would be forced to ask for federal officers from Portland or that local peace officers be empowered to act as United States deputies.

"As the matter now stands," Elliott said, "an Indian may sit in the dle of Beatty's one street, with moonshine still running beside drinking his own product and run a cash poker game on the side, be legally free from all interruption until United States officers arrive. 'Something must be done and quickly or someone is going to hurt.'"

In the Kitchen with 6 Famous Cooks

A MEATLESS MEAL, "FIT FOR COMPANY"

(Ed. Note: This is one of a special series of articles contributed by 6 Famous Cooks. Their recipes are "different." Cut out and paste them in your cook book.)

At the Battle Creek College of Home Economics they specialize in planning and preparing well-balanced meals which are both attractive to the eye and nutritious to eat.

Miss Margaret Allen Hall, dietitian and nutrition expert of the college, has prepared for our readers a "company" menu which is particularly palatable, even though it is absolutely meatless. Proportions are given for the serving of ten.

Eggs a la King
Glazed Sweet Potatoes
Ritz Tomatoes
Fruit Salad a la Creme
Butterscotch Pie
Directions for each dish follow.

Eggs a la King
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup minced sweet pepper
1/2 cup (one quart) milk
1/2 cup mushrooms (fresh or canned) 12 hard-boiled eggs, cut in pieces
1/2 teaspoon salt
Melt butter, add pepper and mushrooms, and cook until soft. Stir in flour and add milk. Stir until thickened. Add seasoning and eggs. Heat very hot and serve on a bed of toast; or pour into a baking dish, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and brown in a quick oven.

Glazed Sweet Potatoes
12 medium-sized sweet potatoes
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup butter
Boil the sweet potatoes in salted water for ten minutes, remove the skins and cut in halves lengthwise. Arrange in a buttered pan. Make a syrup by boiling the sugar and water for three minutes. Add the butter. Brush potatoes with syrup and bake until brown, heating with remaining syrup. Serve in a hot covered dish.

Ritz Tomatoes
Slice bread in usual manner, shape with three-inch biscuit cutter and toast. Slice ripe tomatoes, place a slice on toast, sprinkle with salt, grated cheese or cottage cheese and onion, and finely chopped pepper. Bake in hot oven until tomatoes are cooked and slightly browned.

Fruit Salad a la Creme
1 large banana
1 pint sliced pineapple
1 pound Tokay or Malaga grapes
1 cup Cream Salad Dressing
Drain the pineapple and cut into small pieces. Peel the grapes, cut into halves and remove the seeds. Peel the bananas, scrape off the fuzzy portions and dice. Mix with the Cream Salad Dressing and serve on a plate garnished with lettuce, or place a spoonful of fruit on the lettuce leaf with a smaller spoonful of the dressing.

Cream Salad Dressing
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup cream
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 egg yolk
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
2 cups whipped cream
Melt the butter in a double boiler, stir in the flour and the cream (sour milk being preferable). Stir until it begins to thicken. Beat the egg yolk, add to them the salt, sugar and lemon juice, and turn into the thickened cream. Cook in a double boiler about five minutes, or until the eggs begin to thicken. Cool, and fold in the whipped cream.

Butterscotch Pie
Plain Pastry:
1 cup flour
1/2 cup fat
1 teaspoon salt
Ice water
Mix salt with flour. Cut fat into flour with two knives. Add just enough ice water to hold mixture together without its being sticky. Roll lightly from center outward. This is sufficient pastry for double crusts of one large pie, or two pastry shells.

Butterscotch Filling (for two pies)
4 egg yolks
1/2 cup dark brown sugar
1/2 cup milk
1 cup flour
1 cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Beat yolks of eggs in inside of double boiler, add milk and butter. Mix flour with sugar, and add to milk mixture. Cook until thickened. Remove from fire and cool. Fill cooked pastry shells. Cover with whipped cream or meringue.

Make a meringue with the four egg whites beaten until stiff, fold in four tablespoonfuls powdered sugar, pile irregularly on top of the pie and bake in moderate oven until brown.

A meatless meal, yes. But who would ever miss the meat?
(Be sure to read next week's special cook-recipes.)

Why Long Chimneys?
Many women wonder why oil stoves with long chimneys are superior to those with short ones. It is because the long chimneys insure perfect combustion. In other words, every drop of oil is completely burned before the heat reaches the cooking. There is no chance for soot or odor.

Short chimney stoves as a rule focus the heat in one point, the very center of the burner. Long chimney stoves focus the heat on the bottom of the kettle, but diffuse it over the entire kettle bottom. That's why food cooked on long chimney stoves is better done.

The per capita consumption of apples in the United States is about half an apple per day.

A FAMOUS SOUTHERN COOK

Says

if all oil stoves sold on their working merits the Perfection oil stove would be in most every kitchen Rosa Michaelis

Southern domestic science specialist tells her experience in a recent national cooking test. Every woman who cooks will be interested in it.

THEY know how to cook in New Orleans. And that is where Miss Rosa Michaelis learned. This famous southern cook tried out the Perfection in her own kitchen. She is one of the six famous cooks who recently made a nation-wide test of this stove. Each gave it a rigorous trial. Each baked, broiled, fried and boiled—not one but a number of meals. They all agreed on the merits of the Perfection. Read what Miss Michaelis said.

Quickness is Remarkable

"I never fried a veal steak more beautifully. It retained all the juices and was a lovely, rich brown after frying only ten minutes," said Miss Michaelis. "The quickness and intensity of the heat in the long Perfection chimneys is remarkable. It's clean, too. After frying pancakes and boiling rice, the bottoms of the utensils showed no signs of soot."

Like a Gas Stove

"Everything I cooked was uniformly successful. I found the Perfection just about the same as a gas stove to work with. In some respects it was better. I prefer it to broil steak, for instance. I liked the way the top and bottom browned at the same time in the Perfection broiler."

No Delay In Refilling

"It's an absolutely safe stove. The oil tank may be refilled while burners are lighted. Once when my supply of oil ran low, my rice went right on cooking. I substituted a filled reservoir and my hands never touched the kerosene."

Roomy Cooking Surface

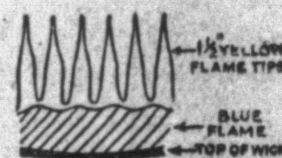

"The oven is large and the cooking surface is roomy. I stored a number of utensils on the handy base shelf. I could see my fuel in the glass reservoir and watch my baking through the glass oven door. The flame is easy to start, easy to regulate, easy to extinguish," she concluded.

Look Over the Line

Look over the line of the latest, improved models at any dealer's. The sizes range from one burner to five burners; the prices from $7.25 to $130.00. Select the right size for your particular needs. Join the 4,500,000 satisfied women who now cook on Perfections.

12 Years Ago From the Daily of TODAY April 15, 1914

Efforts are being made to organize a fair association here.

Funds are being raised to mount the cannon which was given this community by General Wheeler.

A. D. Jervis is spending a few days at French Lick Springs.

Walter F. Miller, editor of the Colbert County Reporter, was in the Twin Cities today.

Mrs. Sallie Burnham, who has been the guest of her brother, S. I. Nichols, since Christmas, expects to leave Saturday for East Tennessee to visit relatives.

Senator Brookhart refused to play "follow the leader" with his republican brethren, and now finds himself kicked out of the senate and a democrat given his place.

Colonel Williams may discover, to his sorrow, that his code of politeness need not include the proffer of a cocktail to his superior officer.

Well, more cotton was consumed last month. If farmers insist on breaking production records next year, it is well that some of the surplus is being cleared away.

The snake stories are making their appearance and Tas-caloosa sets a fast pace for the rest of the state with a yarn in the Tuscaloosa News about a snake being found in the waste paper basket in a brokerage company's office.

The Students Volunteer League, which met and passed resolutions opposing military training, is unduly alarmed.
The experience of most of the men who say military service back in 1917-18 convinced them a military career has its draw-backs.

The manner in which Atticus Mullins, in his publicity, ignores A. G. Patterson, Morgan's candidate for governor, is rather impressive evidence that Atticus does not care to give Mr. Patterson any more advertising than absolutely necessary.

"Hellow Cutie," the salutation alleged to have been given by a Knoxville man to two women who passed him on the street, cost the citizen $5.00. It was not sufficient charge. It is hard to calculate a fitting punishment for that low-down order of human beings to make a practice of making themselves obnoxious to women passing along the street.

S. E. Rudd, editor of the Moulton Advertiser, occupies an unusual place in the category of fortune. It is no easy matter to determine whether he had hard luck in suffering his automobile to be stolen, or whether, being an editor, he was not unduly fortunate in being able to own one in the first place.

Here is something The Daily recommends to its rural readers, with the request they bear in mind not only the utterance, but the fact that it was given by A. G. Patterson, Morgan's candidate for governor. "A full school term such as is available in city schools is necessary to mould the young minds into a higher education, and if elected governor of the state of Alabama I will endeavor to see that the rural districts of the state are afforded an ample opportunity of acquiring an education such as is acquired in city schools up to certain grades. I want a full term school in every public school."

PITY POOR HERRIN, HER PASSIONS AGAIN HAVE PROVED HER MASTER

The world, which looked aghast at Herrin, Illinois, a few years ago when there was a massacre of people during a mine riot, has learned to look with pity on that little Illinois community, whose passion has proved her master.

Nearly a year ago a Mississippi evangelist went to Herrin and tried for more than a month to teach the people that love of God was greater than love of creed; he sought to bring them into a closer relationship with the Divine will, without which all persons are apt to lose their better qualities.

It seemed that the evangelist had succeeded remarkably well. Down the sawdust trail Herrin tread the path of brotherly love. Now the town is torn by factional fights again. Six are dead and militiamen, for the eighth time in four years patrol the streets.

Pity poor Herrin.

STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT AGAIN DISPLAYS VISION IN BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE

News that the Alabama highway department plans soon to let the contracts for the construction of the necessary approach, on the Limestone county side, to the Tennessee river bridge here, is another evidence that the members of the department are looking well into the future.

The approach might be constructed at less expense, without making provision for a lasting roadway, that would never be in danger of being flooded during high water, but that would not have been real economy and the state department does well to realize it.

The bridge across the Tennessee river at this point is destined to become one of the most important river crossings in the South and probably the most important single link in the highway chain in this state. The bridge will last through time as a monument to those whose vision made it possible, and it is entirely in keeping that the approaches on the Limestone county side should be made both safe and attractive.

HOUSTON CHRONICLE SUGGESTS THAT STATE DE- FRAY COST OF MEMORIAL AT STONE MOUNTAIN

The Houston Chronicle, one of the outstanding publications of the southwest, has given the politicians of that state something to think about by suggesting that Texas, itself, defray the state's share of the cost of the Stone Mountain memorial. The Chronicle circumvents any possible objection to the proposal on constitutional grounds, by citing the provisions of the document which would make the appropriation entirely legal.

Alabamians will be interested in the suggestion, because if Texas should take the lead in making an appropriation of this character, the time would not be long before Alabama, too, would, no doubt, consider the same plan.

The Chronicle says: "The constitution does not prescribe what manner of memorials shall be erected, nor where any memorial shall be located. If the purpose to which the appropriation applies subserves the purpose of preserving a memorial of the history of Texas, it will be within both the letter and spirit of the constitution. The Stone Mountain monument will manifest and essentially be a memorial of Texas history, because it will perpetuate the memory of the character and deeds of five of her devoted sons and in the last analysis history is but the record of individual achievement."

Thus, Texas makes out her case. It does seem that Alabamians would contribute, individually, gladly all of the money necessary for this state's share in the memorial cost, but such has not been the case. The Texas plan, after all, may provide the ultimate solution for other states.

FUTURE OF BRICK INDUSTRY IN ALABAMA SEEMS MOST PROMISING

The Gadsden Star, commenting on figures compiled by the Mobile Register, calls attention to the fate which overtook China when, after the country destroyed its forests, floods came and destroyed life and property. The Star sounds the timely warning that America now is using four times as much timber as the country is producing.

All of which naturally leads to the consideration of building materials to replace timber. America will not quit building and elimination of her supply of lumber at the present rapid rate leaves no doubt that utilization of other materials, even in larger quantities than at present is a certainty.

Authorities now are claiming that Alabama is peculiarly fitted to the manufacture of clay products, and here in Albany-Decatur we see in the Decatur Brick Corporation and the Alabama Brick and Tile company's success, material proof of the adaptability of the local soil to manufacture of brick and tile products.

The future for these industries appears to be most promising. Since their establishment here, and within the past few years, both companies have found it necessary to increase their equipment to meet the demands for their output. Their continued expansion will be watched with interest by local citizens. This appears to be another instance Prof. Dowling would describe as "knowing thyself" and making the most of the opportunities.

"THE CHURCHES ARE DRY," RALLYING CRY OF THE FEDERAL COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

For several days the nation has been reading the complaints made by the wets before the senate investigating committee that the nation is headed toward something approaching perdition because of the Volstead law. The importance of the Volstead law never was so forcibly impressed as it was by the wets, themselves.

Out of all the mess in Washington, however, the testimony of Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, of New York, stands forth like a beacon.

"The churches are dry," is the cheering message he took to the committee. Modification would bring back the saloon, is the solemn warning delivered by the president of the Federal Council of Churches.

The council's prohibition committee recently adopted a report, which contained among other things the following, which, in itself, is ample contradiction of the wet claims that the churches no longer are supporters of prohibition:

"The call of the hour is for such a thorough-going work of moral persuasion and legal support as will give the policy of prohibition an adequate opportunity to demonstrate its full value to the nation and to the world," is the conclusion of the statement, which declares that "modification would make bootlegging more menacing."

"The support of National Prohibition by the Federal Council of Churches rests upon four fundamental considerations.

"First, the belief that in dealing with gigantic social evils like disease or crime, individual liberty must be controlled in the interest of public welfare.

"Second, the belief that the liquor traffic is beyond question such an evil.

"Third, the conviction that no plan less thoroughgoing that prohibition is sufficient to eradicate the evils of the liquor traffic.

"Fourth, the evidence of history that other methods of attempting to control the traffic have failed and that prohibition, despite inadequacies of enforcement, is succeeding better than any other program.

"Limitation upon individual freedom in matters affecting society is the price that any people must pay for the progress of its civilization.

Personal liberty cannot rightly be claimed for practices which militate against the welfare of others or the interest of the community as a whole. It is especially contrary to democratic ideals and to enlightened public policy to permit any citizen to make profit from a business which is detrimental to his neighbor.

"This is readily recognized by all as sound policy in regard to the trade in narcotics. It is equally true of the liquor traffic. To ensure social protection against a trade whose avowed purpose was to get people to consume the maximum possible amount of alcoholic liquor is the foundation on which our national policy of prohibition rests.

"The policy of prohibition was not adopted hastily nor was it foisted upon the country by a puritanical minority.
It was first voted in most of the states separately and then nationally, because the people had become convinced that the liquor traffic was made a part of the Constitution by the regular methods which the founders of the Republic devised with a view to making the amendment to the Constitution difficult rather than easy. Yet this Amendment was adopted more promptly than any other change in the Constitution ever proposed."

BEREAN CLUB GUESTS OF MESDAMES DAVIS AND RITTER

The home of Mrs. Frank J. Davis was thrown open on Wednesday afternoon to the members of the Berean club with Mrs. W. H. Ritter as joint hostess. The interior of the home was prettily decorated with lilac and hyacinths in shades of lavender and white. These same colors were used in the delicious ice course and mints served late in the afternoon.

A large number of members were present to hear the uplifting address given by Dr. Tyler, pastor of the First Methodist church Mrs. R. E. Hewlett had charge of the hymnology for the afternoon and took as the hymn for study of its origin, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" after which Mrs. C. C. Davison in a feeling manner sang this beloved hymn accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Russell Spake with Mrs. Warren Gardner playing a violin obligato.

The hostesses had several extra guests to enjoy this meeting and they were Mrs. W. L. Grimes of Sheffield, Mrs. M. A. Hewlett of Memphis, Mrs. Helen Moseley, Mrs. Irwin Baker, Louise Phillips, Mrs. Warren Gardner, Mrs. Russell Spake and Dr. W. T. Tyler. Assisting them in serving and entertaining were Mrs. F. F. The treasurer reported a goodly sum in the treasury of the club. This concluded the business of the afternoon and then the musical program was taken up, the first number being a piano solo by Miss Marie Patterson. Miss Jane Irwin rendered a pleasing violin number with her sister Miss Harriett Irwin accompanying her at the piano. A piano solo by Miss Dorothy Whaley was very much enjoyed.

What Skinny Men Ought To Know

You probably know that Cod Liver Oil is the greatest flesh producer in the world. Because it contains more Vitamins than any food you can get. You'll be glad to know that Cod Liver Oil comes in sugar-coated tablets now, so if you really want to put 10 or 20 pounds of real healthy flesh on your bones and feel well and strong ask Caddell Drug Co., or any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Only 60 cents for 60 tablets and if you don't gain five pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

It isn't anything unusual for a person to gain 10 pounds in 30 days. "Get McCoy's the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablet."—Advt.

Miss Nobody

Published by arrangement with First National Pictures Inc.

"And," said Miss Raleigh with downcast eyes, "are you still?"

"I can answer that better," Barbara edged over and placed her arm about Miss Raleigh's waist, "in a moment."

The woman made no attempt to repulse her. She found herself drawn to the charmer's bosom with a sudden fierce strength. She tried to fight her way out of the ferocious embrace, but she wasn't strong enough.

"You darling!" Miss Raleigh's voice was hoarse with emotion. "You're only a boy, but you're irresistible!"

"You're impossible!" Barbara spat the words at her and wrenched herself away. The woman looked at her blankly.

"I—I thought you were a gentleman!"

"Well, I'm not. Good God! How old are you?"

"How dare you?"

"How old are you?"

"It's none of your business. Don't think that because you're a movie actor you can bring your Hollywood manners here! In all my life—why I never—"

"You're old enough to be my mother," said Barbara quietly.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself to be sitting here in this lovely place seducing a youngster by moonlight. You're a libel on your sex. I told Mr. Kohler to beat it. I didn't want him to fall into your clutches. I classified you the minute I laid eyes on you. Men are such dubs. He fell for you. In the moonlight here he might have made love to you. And that's unthinkable."

He swung his free legs about her and shouted again, but she could not catch the word.

"Wait," said Barbara. "I haven't finished yet. I know your type. You sit and smile. Sit anywhere and smile at anything. Anything in pants. I'm not twenty yet, and you smiled at me. You would have smiled if I had been eighty. You're insatiable. You're the reason why men, in their smokers and clubs, boast about how easy it is to win a woman. You're—"

Miss Raleigh suddenly leaned over and slapped Barbara resoundingly across the face. She followed with several vigorous punches.

"I'll show you, you little beast," she panted, and suddenly loosed a high-pitched shriek. "I'll get the police. I'll teach you."

She screamed again.

"He pinched me! Owow!"

Barbara fled.

She met Bravo at breakfast in the hotel. He took one look at her and roared.

"Ho-ho!" He stared at her blackened eye. "So her husband wasn't an engineer! And he wasn't in St. Louis! Well, that's what you get for butting in. You're lucky to have escaped with your life—"

He glanced at her feet—"and your shoes. I had an experience like that once—when I was as young as you." He paused and added, indignantly, "Or, perhaps, you struck your eye against the bed-post?"

"I'm tired of city life," said Barbara humbly. "When do we hit the road again?"

"Right after breakfast," said Bravo, "unless you've got another date with the gal. Have you?"

"No," shivered Barbara.

Vespers

THE CRICKETS chirped vespers. Barbara and Bravo, side by side, careless, prowled along the country road which began nowhere and led—where they didn't care.

Their feet kept the slow pace of their pleasant thoughts.

"I wonder what makes me so fond of this kid?" Bravo dreamed. "Some day he'll stray away and I'll be alone again. I don't suppose I could adopt him."

And Barbara:

"He likes me. He likes me with all his glances and gestures. This is perfect. He likes me well and wants nothing. That's because I am a man. My trousers are getting baggy, but they are blessed and beautiful. I'm never going to be a girl again as long as I live. Skirts mean chaos, trouble, conflict. Trousers mean an understanding, peace, friendship."

Said Bravo aloud:

"Tired, kid?"

"Tired? How can I be tired in a vacuum? Doesn't this night make you feel disembodied? I feel that I have no flesh at all. I am an idea traversing the mind of space."

Mr. Johnson, resident of Kansas City, was amazed at the way Lyko built up his run-down constitution. He says: "When I began taking Lyko I was thin and weak, weighed only 120 pounds, and felt a great lack of pep. Now I weigh 147 pounds, am full of energy and never feel tired."

DREADFUL PAINS

Georgia Lady, Who Had Lost Too Much Weight, Was Advised to Take Cardui and Is Now Well.

Columbus, Ga.—Mrs. George S. Hunter, of this city, writes: "After I married, thirteen months ago, I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides during ... My side hurt so bad it nearly killed me. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work and I just dragged around the house. "I got very thin—I went from 126 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had long been a user of Cardui and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve. "My side hurt less and I began to improve in health. ... The Cardui acted as a fine tonic and I do not feel like the same person. I am so much better. I am well now. I have gained ten pounds and am still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all. Every town has a few who delight in making speeches for charity and never see the collect on plate

"Well, Mrs. Johnson, announced the colored physician, after taking her husband's temperature, 'ah has knock-ed de fever outen him. Dat's one good thing."

"Sho' nuff," was the excited reply. "Does dat mean dat he's gwine to git well, den?"

"No," replied the doctor, 'dey's no hope fo' him; but you has de satisfaction ob knowin' dat he died cured."

A husband always refers to his wife as an angel until she flies off with another fellow.

Fallen Arches

A man was standing beneath a bridge When it crashed down on his head. "Death was caused by fallen arches," The coroner's jury said.

Like everything else, wars are mighty hard to pay for on the installment plan.

Just think how popular the women are getting to be. Last year it was Mah Jongg and this year it's Ma Ferguson

One way for a rich man to live to be ninety years old is for him to have a lot of hungry heirs who are waiting for him to die.

All that some politicians lost by the oil scandal was their reputations, and that wasn't much anyway.

A little fellow arrived home from school while the family were at lunch. With a disgusted look on his face, he said: "Mother, some of the boys in my class didn't know how to spell 'sarcasm'."

"Well, dear," replied his mother, "how do you spell it?"

"Me?" he asked, "Oh, I was one of those that didn't know."

I've lost my temper, lost my health, I've almost lost my life; And I've lost every speck of wealth, But I can't lose my wife.

A confession magazine offers a prize for the "most colorful romance." Why don't they page Mr. Kip Rhineland?

Why doesn't a deaf and dumb citizen run for office occasionally? He'd make an ideal candidate

"Can someone please inform me why they spell it 'sundae'?" implores a local person. "And also, we would like to have you tell us why a hog is independent when he's on ice."

"That's pretty snappy," said the sat as the trap sprang on him.

"Aren't you nearly ready, dear?"

"I wish you wouldn't keep asking that question, Clarence. I've been telling you for the last hour that I'll be ready in a minute."

Well, why shouldn't speech be free? Very little of it is worth anything.

Robinson Talks To Kiwanians

Bryce Robinson, District Governor of the Talladega district of Kiwanis in Alabama, today addressed local Kiwanians upon the plans of the state organization for attending the Montreal convention to be held later in the summer. Mr. Robinson told of a special Alabama train which will be chartered at a nominal sum if Kiwanians sign up for the trip to Canada. Kiwanians accepted Mr. Robinson's talk with much enthusiasm and plans will be underway within a short while to have Albany-Decatur well represented at the International meeting. A. A. Jones and M. R. Rankin have been chosen to represent the club.

REMODEL FRONT

Sheats & Alexander, local grocers, are busy today with remodeling plans. The entire front of the building on upper Second Avenue is being changed and at completion will offer more than an ordinary invitation to the general public.

MANAGER WOUNDED

(Associated Press)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 15.—B. G. Roberson, former manager of the baseball club of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, today was in a serious condition from effects of a bullet wound in the head believed by police to have been self-inflicted. No reason for the alleged act could be given at his boarding place.

Athletics Drop Second To Senators As Coveleskie Yields But Six Safeties

Stan Coveleskie, veteran Washington hurler, almost duplicated the opening day feat of Walter Johnson when he stopped the Philadelphia Mackmen yesterday 3-1. The Mackmen scored a single run, their first in 24 frames. The veteran Pole was unable to establish the strike out record of his team mate, Walter struck out an even dozen while Covey struck out but a pair.

Howard Camp, spectacular Nashville outfielder broke his leg in the second inning and will be out of the game for the next month at least, yesterday as the Vols were engaged in a torrid turmoil with Atlanta. Camp will be a decided loss to the Vol outfield, one of the best in the sunland circuit.

"Roll-call... get out the papers and P.A."

"ROLL"-call! Time to take out the tidy red tin or toppy red bag of Prince Albert, and roll the greatest little home-made cigarette ever. P. A. rolls easier—doesn't land in your lap or blow all over the place. That's because P. A. is crimp-cut and stays put in the papers.

And what a wonderful taste these home-rolled cigarettes have! Mellow as moonlight. Mild as Indian summer. Cool as a draught of spring-water on a sultry day. Cool and comfortable! P. A. can't bite your tongue or parch your throat. Because—the Prince Albert process cuts out bite and parch.

Open a tin or bag of P. A. and revel in that fragrance of real tobacco. It smokes just as fragrant too. If you've never rolled them with this tobacco, a million-and-more men will tell you what you've been missing. Get started now. You'll want to make up for lost time by rolling one right after another.

P. A. is great in a jimmy-pipe too. As a matter of fact, many men who thought they never would like a pipe have switched to P. A. and are now pipe-regulars. Try Prince Albert both ways. Pipe or cigarette, it's just the mellowest, sweetest, most enjoyable smoke ever.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins and toppy red bags. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!
